

Decisora

Pause. Understand. Decide.

A smarter pause before a financial decision.

THE INVESTOR EXPERIENCE

Sometimes, one moment of panic changes a decision

A red market index flashes on screen. Volatility triggers an instinctive urge to pull money out right now.

When market swings feel sudden, an everyday financial decision quickly feels urgent. Without time to reflect, long-term goals can be broken in a single reaction.

Urgency bias in action: An impulse to redeem mutual funds during short-term dips locks in losses before the portfolio can recover.

THE DECISORA SOLUTION

What if investors paused before they acted?

Decisora is not a barrier. It is a supportive decision checkpoint built right into the redemption moment.

Instead of immediate execution, the investor is offered a calm, objective review of what their withdrawal actually means for their compounding trajectory.

Friction with purpose

Replacing panic with clarity so decisions remain intentional.

A simple pause. A clearer picture.

Four connected stages guiding investors from impulse to informed intention.

01

Enter details

Specify the proposed redemption amount and current fund value.

02

Review impact

See the withdrawal translated into lost SIP contributions and compounding time.

03

Reflect

Check whether the exit solves an immediate emergency or reacts to market noise.

04

Decide

Proceed with complete autonomy and full awareness of the tradeoff.

Understand your redemption. Explore what the data shows.

Your decision. Better context.

Decisora respects investor autonomy while guarding against impulsive errors.

WHAT DECISORA HELPS WITH

Understand the real impact: Quantifies what liquidating capital costs in lost discipline and time.

Reflect on underlying goals: Separates genuine emergency needs from market noise panic.

Avoid rushed mistakes: Creates space for reason before clicking confirm.

WHAT DECISORA DOES NOT DO

No buy or sell advice: Decisora never makes investment recommendations.

No return predictions: We never forecast future market directions or NAV values.

No transaction execution: Decisora does not touch funds or execute trades.
